“SIGNS OF SUCCESS
FOR A BETTER EDUCATION”

Established 2008

What is bilingual education?

Bilingual education of Deaf and Hard of Hearing students is using both American Sign Language and English for instruction.

Research shows the path to effectiveness when a bilingual approach is used in the following ways:

- 1) It builds on a child's linguistic and intellectual capabilities
- 2) Concepts and knowledge developed in the first language transfer easily to the second language
- 3) School performance and curriculum attainment is raised when the first language is celebrated

LVCSD is committed to giving deaf and hard of hearing children the opportunity to achieve the success they seek and deserve. Through the adoption of best practices in deaf charter school education, coupled with the provision of a safe and supporting community of deaf and hearing individuals, family and educators.
